

Domestication Claim Paragraph

Due: Monday, 10/7 by Midnight

Read the article Early Humans & Domestication. Make sure to annotate the article as you read. Write a claim paragraph response to the following prompt:

What was more important to the development of civilization, the domestication of fire or the domestication of plants and animals?

Make sure to cite at least 2 pieces of evidence from either PowerPoint notes, articles on plants and animals, the article on the domestication of fire, or from the Guns, Germs, & Steel documentary. The paragraph needs to be 8-10 sentences long. Make sure you have a clear argument, have cited evidence, fully explain the evidence in your own words and show how the evidence supports your argument, and a clear, cohesive conclusion statement that refers to your evidence.

Please submit your final draft to turnitin.com. If you have not yet made an account, please do so and add your specific class period. All Class ID's and passwords are on the front white board.

Domestication Claim Paragraph

Due: Monday, 10/7 by Midnight

Read the article Early Humans & Domestication. Make sure to annotate the article as you read. Write a claim paragraph response to the following prompt:

What was more important to the development of civilization, the domestication of fire or the domestication of plants and animals?

Make sure to cite at least 2 pieces of evidence from either PowerPoint notes, articles on plants and animals, the article on the domestication of fire, or from the Guns, Germs, & Steel documentary. The paragraph needs to be 8-10 sentences long. Make sure you have a clear argument, have cited evidence, fully explain the evidence in your own words and show how the evidence supports your argument, and a clear, cohesive conclusion statement that refers to your evidence.

Please submit your final draft to turnitin.com. If you have not yet made an account, please do so and add your specific class period. All Class ID's and passwords are on the front white board.

Domestication Claim Paragraph

Due: Monday, 10/7 by Midnight

Read the article Early Humans & Domestication. Make sure to annotate the article as you read. Write a claim paragraph response to the following prompt:

What was more important to the development of civilization, the domestication of fire or the domestication of plants and animals?

Make sure to cite at least 2 pieces of evidence from either PowerPoint notes, articles on plants and animals, the article on the domestication of fire, or from the Guns, Germs, & Steel documentary. The paragraph needs to be 8-10 sentences long. Make sure you have a clear argument, have cited evidence, fully explain the evidence in your own words and show how the evidence supports your argument, and a clear, cohesive conclusion statement that refers to your evidence.

Please submit your final draft to turnitin.com. If you have not yet made an account, please do so and add your specific class period. All Class ID's and passwords are on the front white board.